The Great Southern Relief Fair.

The Baltimore Sun gives a glowing account of the second day's proceedings of the Fair.—We make the following extracts from the account in the Sun:

The Great Southern Relief Fair, which was opened to the public on Monday evening, has succeeded in an eminent degree. The Institute Hall yesterday presented a much better appearance than on the preceding evening, when the hurry and confusion incident to the opening caused many little drawbacks that would not have been had more time been allowed. The attendance yesterday commenced well even in the forenoon, and soon the various avenues leading to the hall were filled with persons passing to and fro, which continued during the whole day. In the evening the crowd was again dense, equally as great as on the preceding evening, those gaining admittance being scarcely able to find standing room, whilst hundreds were unable to get even inside the door. The Blues' Band were again in attendance, and, under Prof. Holland, performed some of their choicest pieces. The fair is now in full blast.

THE TOUT ENSEMBLE.

The spectator, on entering the hall at night, is struck by the brilliancy of the tout ensemble, and pleasantly impressed by the general appearance and plan of arrangement. The lengthened hall, with its deep perspective, as it were; the elevated galleries on either hand and at each end, filled with the beauty and fashion of the city; the shimmer of gas jets running the whole length of the immense building, and suspended from the tables, with the drapery of festooned flags, wreaths and evergreens; three grand rows of tables, the main one running down the centre of the room, with the others on the eastern and western sides, laden with their profuse variety of wares, fabrics &c, their numerous lady attendants, and the continuous moving mass of well-dressed people, male and female, as spectators and purchasers—all these constitute as attractive and inspiring a scene as one need desire to look upon, and which it would seem every soul capable of happiness must derive pleasure in beholding. The tables are all neatly trimmed with evergreens and ornamented with flowers by the ladies having them in charge. Those in the centre are numbered from 25 to 50; those on the right from 1 to 18, and those on the left from 19 to 34, at each and every one of which innumerable articles, either of elegance or comfort, suited to please the fancy or gratify the taste of both young and old, are exhibited. There are two other tables, 51 and 52, on either hand near the entrance door.

TABLES NOS. 1 AND 2.

These tables, the first on the right hand side of the hall, are presided over by Mrs. John F. Hunter, Mrs. William Benthall, Mrs. John Brown, and Mrs. Capt. Lawry, assisted by Misses Hortensia Massicott, Jennie Smith, of Washington city, Kate Burnham, Allie Thompson, Wellie Smith, Fanny Lowry, Carrie Ulton, Rebecca Freeman, Martha White, and others.—They deal principally in confectionery, cakes, &c., but have several interesting mementoes which they design disposing of by raffle, the chances in which they are rapidly getting clear of. Among these is a magnificent lot of braided hair which a lady in Richmond, once in affluent circumstances, cut from her own head and sent to Philadelphia, for sale in order to procure bread for her children. It was sold for $41, and the money remitted, and the purchaser, Miss Harrison, of Philadelphia, has had it beautifully braided, and sent to the fair, with instructions that the proceeds be forwarded to the original owner in Richmond. It is valued at $100, and the chances are being rapidly taken at $1 each. Another is a large cameo breastpin, the last relic of a former wealthy lady of Charleston, who was compelled to sell it to sustain life. It also came into the possession of Miss Harrison, who has sent it to be disposed of for the benefit of the original owner.

TABLES NOS. 5 AND 6.

Are known as the President's tables, and are presided over by Mrs. B. C. Howard, the president of the board of lady managers, assisted by Mrs. D. H. Miller, Miss Garrett, Mrs. G. B. Hoffman, Mrs. Richard Tyson, Mrs. J. S. Nicholas, Mrs. Ellen Gilmore and Mrs Jas. Howard.—Here are displayed the portrait and surveyor's compass of Gen. Geo. Washington, and other relics of that great man. There is also an oil painting presenting the scene between Herbert and Arthur, in Shakspeare's King John, presented by Messrs. Tatnall & Jackson, of Philadelphia, who gave $400 for it a few years since. Another fine painting represents a Newfoundland dog carrying a basket, presented to Mrs. Howard, by Mr. J. Savage, of Philadelphia.—The display of fancy and useful goods made by the ladies at this table is very fine.

THE TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

The National Telegraphic Union, composed of telegraphic operators throughout the country, through a committee of Baltimore operators, consisting of Messrs. C. E. Ways, J. G. Riley and H. C. Showacre, has arranged a telegraph line running around the hall, with an office at each end of the building. Attentive operators are constantly in attendance, pretty young misses act as messengers, and many are the messages dispatched and received. This will prove quite a source of revenue to the lady managers. The messages all bear the imprint, "Southern Relief Fair Telegraph Line, under the management of the National Telegraph Union."

A DONATION FROM PHILADELPHIA.

A magnificent India camel's hair shawl was yesterday presented the lady managers by Mr. J. M. Hafleigh, of Philadelphia, through Mr. W. H. Perkins, of this city. It was imported direct by Mr. H. for his finest sales and is valued at $600. This shawl is one of the finest of the kind ever imported into this country, and is well worthy the special attention of visitors. It has been placed on the table presided over by Mrs. D. Preston Parr, and is to be disposed of by raffle.

A DONATION FROM NEW YORK.

Messrs. Montague Brothers, general insurance agents of this city, yesterday, presented Mrs. B. C. Howard, the president of the board of lady managers, with a check for $100, as a contribution from the Metropolitan Insurance Company of New York.

Why should we never sleep in a railway car? Because the train always runs over sleepers.

THE Greensboro' Patriot gives an account of the proceedings of Randolph Superior Court, which was in session last week. We regret to learn, from this account, that a very deplorable state of affairs is existing in that county. The Patriot says:

"Instead of letting by-gones be by-gones, with the restoration of civil government and the reopening of the Courts, they are renewing something of the strife and trouble which so afflicted that and other counties in the hottest times of the revolution out of which we have so recently emerged. We regret this no little; but as a faithful chronicler of the news it is our duty to publish facts and approve or disapprove them. The animus, with which that people is moved, is not commendable.

Of convictions and submissions, there were not less than fifty; of the bills of indictment found the number is at least eighty; and there were a great many presentments and old warrants on which the parties had to be re-bound, because Mr. Solicitor Settle did not have time to draw bills. He worked day and night; drew over one hundred bills; but the Grand Jury, who could not on account of its numbers work so rapidly, acted upon only about eighty. We understand there were several bills charging defendants with murder. The old citizens, and such as were called loyal during the days of the Southern Confederacy, are prosecuting the bushwhackers and robbers; and, on the other hand, the bushwhackers, who now set themselves up as par excellence Union citizens, are indicting the militia officers and such as acted under their orders for assaults and batteries, forcible trespasses, false imprisonments and murder.—The spirit of retaliation has just begun to move them and it is difficult to tell how far and to what extremities it may impel them."

We chronicle these facts with profound concern. In view of our external troubles, and the antipathies that exist towards us in Congress and among the radical masses at the North, we had hoped that our people at home, at least, would cultivate a spirit of amity, reconciliation and harmony, among themselves. We have enough to do to build up our shattered fortunes and repair the ravages of war, without engaging in the unprofitable and unchristian work of crimination and re-crimination. We have no sympathy with any class of persons in our midst, who are disposed to indulge in harsh reflections upon, or the persecution of, those who may have differed from them during the struggle from which we have just emerged. We deprecate the spirit which would taunt a man, on account of his honest opposition to the war and his consistent Union proclivities pending the contest, just as much as we condemn and despise that ungenerous and unmanly spirit, which would brand, as traitors and dupes, those who took up arms at the call of the State, or who adhered to its fortunes through all the varying phases of the war. Both are reprehensible in the highest degree.

We appeal to the people of Randolph, and of all other localities, if any, where such unfortunate dissensions may exist, to pause,—for their own sakes and for the sake of the State. Let them turn a deaf ear to the fomenters of these disturbances. There are few such in the South, we are ashamed to say,—disappointed politicians, evil genii who delight to ride upon the storm of popular commotion and who revel in the carnival of malignant and vengeful passions,—men like Brownlow, and others that we might name. Let us, by our own action, sustain the announcement of our noble President, that there is, in all respects, PEACE in the South!

WE INVITE attention to the dignified, intelligent and truthful testimony of J. D. B. DeBow, Esq., of South Carolina, before the so called Reconstruction Committee, which will be found upon our fourth page. It presents a faithful picture of Southern sentiment and affairs—the most faithful and striking that we have yet seen. We may allude to it again hereafter.

THE LEGISLATURE, at its late session, passed a law, introducing the English rule of evidence, excluding no person from testifying in the Courts on account of relationship, interest, or any thing but conviction of some infamous crime, usually known as Lord Denman's bill.—Will our contemporary of the Raleigh SENTINEL, who is State Printer, and who, therefore, can have access to it, oblige the public by publishing it? We have been called upon to give it to the public, but we cannot do so, for the reason that we have not got it.—Old North State.

It is our purpose, at an early day, to give to our readers not only the bill alluded to by our cotemporary, but also a number of other important acts passed by the late Legislature,—especially those reported from the Commission upon the subject of the Freedmen.

Elegant Extracts.

For the sake of the truth of history, we publish the following extracts from the Standard, of April and May, 1861. Before the Senior Editor of the Sentinel had anything to do with the Standard, to show the amiable temper of Mr. Holden, the editor of the Standard, towards Mr. Lincoln, and his animus in reference to the war and the Union.

As soon as we can do so, we will give a few more, from the Standard of 1862, and on, after the Senior Editor's connection with the Standard ceased:

Fanaticism and unjust power are on one side—"God and our native land" are on the other.—Standard, April 24, 1861.

Never let it be said that North Carolina was called upon to draft her sons to fight in this righteous war.—Ibid.

Mr. W.'s place, it seems, was offered to Mr. S., of this place, who indignantly declined it, and wrote to the Post Master General, that "he would help to maintain the rights of the South at the point of the bayonet," and instead of serving Old Abe, he 'would like to get just one good shot at him."—Standard, April 27, 1861.

Up to the proclamation of Lincoln, our people were divided. The party names were Unionists and Secessionists. These names have ceased to exist. We are all Southern rights men now.—Ibid.

The Times (New York) speaks of a "liberating army." That is understood. In the first place, we do not fear the result of such a movement; and, in the second place, if such a purpose as that should be proclaimed by the Northern authorities, every soldier and every officer taken in battle would be regarded and executed as an incendiary. The South will give no quarter to those who compose or who lead "liberating" armies.—Ibid.

Lincoln has broken the Constitution, wrought a revolution, and released the States in the minority from the Federal Government.—Standard, May 1, 1861.

In the language of that faithful old Democratic sheet, the Albany Argus and Atlas, "the cannonading in the harbor of Charleston"—and, we may add, the proclamation of Lincoln—"sounded the death-knell of the American Union. Henceforth we are two nations.

"True love can never grow

Standard, May 1, 1861.

We predict that Lincoln and his government will be in Albany, New York, before the close of the ensuing summer.—Idem.

Capt. Vance's company is at present in the encampment at Statesville. Vance knows where to find Abe Lincoln, and his men will follow him to the death.—Standard, May 11, 1861.

THE WHITE LIVERED COWARDS.—The New York Tribune has contributed as follows to the war: for the war, 00; for the old flag, 00; for the militia, 00; for regulars, 00, for consul ships, 5; for other foreign offices, 2; for post offices, 5.—Idem.

FORT MACON.—They say if Abe's ships should pay Macon a visit, they will be most "hostilely hospitably" received; several balls gotten up, in honor of their arrival, and entertained with the only fruit now in season—a plenty of grape.—Standard, May 15, 1861.

Let no follower of Abe Lincoln lay the flattering unction to his soul, that the old Union men of this State are not true to the South.—The squads who have told Abe's followers a different tale have lied, and have thus given aid and comfort to the abolitionists.—Standard, May 18, 1861.

National Union Johnson Club.

We find, in the last National Intelligencer, the following announcement of names of gentlemen as composing the National Union Johnson Committee, organized for the purpose of upholding the hands of the President and promoting the success of his policy. So far as our acquaintance with the gentlemen named for the South, either personally or by reputation, extends, we endorse their eminent fitness for the position assigned them, as well as their conservatism, patriotism and fidelity to the Union.

The New York Times hails with satisfaction the President's proclamation announcing the close of the war and the complete achievements of its objects. It thinks that the recital by the President of the various proclamations and enactments under which the war was prosecuted and its purpose made known, leads directly and logically to the conclusion reached that the necessity for a military occupation of the South has ceased, and that thus necessity for legislation for the South, under the war power, is also at an end—Texas alone being an exception for the time. This interpretation of the present status of the South virtually places South Carolina and New-York on the same footing in all that appertains to their relations to other States and to the national government. And the proclamation carries with it this force, without the slightest impingement upon the high prerogative which Congress holds to determine the rights of individual claimants to seats in either branch of that body. It simply announces to the Southern States that they are once more intrusted with the maintenance of law and order within their own borders,—and to the world at large that the unity of the government is restored upon a basis not inconsistent with the rights and immunities of individual States. The Times adds:

In view of our commercial and financial position, we cannot regard this great executive act without satisfaction. In view even of the differences which estrange a majority in Congress from the President, the proclamation will help reasonable men to find a basis of honorable compromise, and in view of the possibility of external trouble, however remote, the act must commend itself to all patriotic men as one of wisdom.

THE RECEIPTS of the Southern Relief Fair, in Baltimore, thus far, reach $37,000. For an interesting account of the second day's proceedings, see our first page.

For the Sentinel.

Is the Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus Restored by the Peace Proclamation?

MESSRS. EDITORS: The above question is one in which every citizen must feel considerable interest. Upon the answer to it depends that sense of personal security which is the most precious heritage of an American citizen. If the privilege of the writ is not restored, we are still under the uncertain and arbitrary sway of military rule; if it is restored, the civil authority is once more paramount to all others, and the upright citizen is safe in his innocence.

I am glad to learn from your paper of this morning, that the affirmative to this question is sustained by the opinion of a number of Northern newspapers. The correctness of that position seems to me beyond question. The intention of the President, that the proclamation should have the effect of restoring the writ, appears to be clear from the language of the document itself. In the preamble to the declaration of peace, the incompatibility of the suspension of the privilege of the writ with "the rights of citizens," its contrariety "to the genius and spirit of our free institutions," etc., are given as reasons why it should not be sanctioned or allowed in time of peace; and "therefore," says the President, (for the conclusion flows from this clause of the preamble as clearly as from any other,) "I, Andrew Johnson, President, etc., do hereby proclaim and declare that the insurrection which heretofore existed" in the Southern States "is at an end, and henceforth is to be so regarded." Undoubtedly, the injustice, the inexpediency and the danger of the suspension of the writ is assigned as an urgent motive or the declaration that follows; and to suppose that there is no intention that the proclamation shall restore the writ, is to charge the President with a palpable and silly non sequitur.

But the restoration of the writ results as a necessary consequence of the proclamation;—assuming (what I presume is not disputed) that the President has the right to declare the insurrection at an end. The Constitution of the United States (Art. 1., Sec. 9., clause 2.) forbids the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, except upon the concurrence of two or three contingencies. To warrant its suspension, there must be either an actual insurrection or invasion existing, and the public safety must require it. No mere opinion that the public safety requires the suspension will authorize it, except in case (in time of) insurrection or invasion. No one even apprehends an invasion; and, by the proclamation, the insurrection is at an end; it follows, therefore, that the writ is restored, since it can only be suspended "in case of insurrection or invasion."

TACITUS.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 4th.—SENATE.—Mr. Stewart asked that the Committee on Reconstruction be discharged from the further consideration of the joint resolution heretofore offered by him proposing certain conditions on which the Southern States should be reinstated, and that they be made the special order for to-morrow. He spoke in advocacy of his motion, alleging that the country was growing impatient, and demanding some action at the hands of Congress. It had been charged that Congress had no desire to see the lately seceded States restored to the Union, and he desired Congress to vindicate itself by the speedy adoption of some definite plan of reconstruction.—He believed that the plan submitted by him was endorsed by the country.

Pending the consideration of Mr. Stewart's motion, the morning hour expired, and the veto message was called up, when Mr. Trumbull made a speech against it and in favor of the Civil Rights Bill.

HOUSE.—The House was engaged to-day in the consideration of the election case of Dodge against Brooks.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT RECOMMENDING THAT THE SOUTHERN STATES BE ALLOWED TO ASSUME THE DIRECT TAX.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

The President to day sent to the House a communication from the Governor of Alabama, asking that the State be allowed to assume and pay in State bonds the direct tax now due from her, or that a delay of payment may be authorized until the State can, by the sale of its bonds, or by taxation make provision for its liquidation. The President concurs in the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury, that it is desirable that Alabama and the other Southern States be allowed to assume and pay their portions of the direct taxes now due, and therefore recommends the necessary legislation by Congress.

The New York Senate Against the Veto.

NEW YORK, April 4.

Getting into Southern Society.

The Chicago Times, in contrasting the testimony of Gen. Lee and Gen. Terry as to the loyalty of the people of Virginia, and alluding especially to the indisposition manifested by Virginia society to receive strangers readily, makes the following very sensible remarks:

"There are two points of prominence connected with this question of admittance to Southern society. Southern women entered upon the contest for the independence of the South with an enthusiasm and determination that exceeded those of the opposite sex. The failure, therefore, was more disastrous in its reactionary effect upon their feelings than it was in the case of Southern men. The Southern women are more disappointed, more prostrated by the failure than the men. When to this is added the fact that almost all these women are mourning for the loss of some relative, it can scarcely be expected that they would be willing to look favorably upon men whom they cannot but regard as the instruments by which their pride has been humbled, their hopes blasted, their property destroyed, and their fathers, sons, lovers and brothers slain.

Suppose the case reversed. Suppose the South had conquered, and that, to-day, the North was a desert held by Southern troops; would our wives and daughters wish to associate with swaggering graybacks who had been instrumental in reducing them to poverty and in depriving them of their natural protectors? We should regard our women as coarse and unfeeling if they ventured to take any such course.

The other prominent point in this matter is, that in Southern society, as in any other society, a gentleman is admissible, whether he come from Boston, Paris, or Kamschatka. No gentleman will place himself into a house of mourning and propose a game of euchre or a dance in connection with the obsequies of the deceased; and, in like manner, no gentleman will seek admission into Southern society, until its people have buried their dead. In time the dead will be buried, the period of mourning will be passed, the bitterness of recollection will become lessened, and then the doors of Southern mansions will swing on oiled hinges for the entrance of the gentleman, regardless of his nationality.

We cannot conscientiously promise, when that time arrives, that these doors will be wide open to New England and the entire North. Blatant abolitionist, who offensively insists that the Southern negress is the intellectual and social equal of the Southern white woman, will find it as hard to get into Southern society then as they do now. This fact alone will probably bar the doors of Southern houses against nine-tenths of the Puritans. Respectable society in the South is like respectable society everywhere; it is an aggregation of sympathetic social elements, and it repudiates everything uncouth, brutal, and offensive."

Connecticut Election.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 5.

Returns from the entire State show that Hawley, Republican, for Governor has about 850 majority. The Republicans have a majority in both branches of the Legislature, so that Mr. Foster, the present acting Vice President of the United States, or some other Republican will be chosen United States Senator. The Democrats have gained several State Senators and over thirty members of the House. Mr. P. T. Barnum, the celebrated showman, is among the Republicans elected to the House. The following is the vote for Governor cast last year in the several counties, with the exception of a few small towns, compared with the present year:

	1865		1866
	Buckingham, (Rep.)	Seymour, (Dem.)	Hawley, (Rep.)	English, (Dem.)
Hartford	8,352	6,618	8,163	8,476
New Haven	8,252	7,295	8,750	10,950
Fairfield	6,876	5,323	4,253	4,216
New London	5,181	3,078	5,677	4,665
Tolland	2,147	1,661	2,750	2,224
Litchfield	3,858	3,891	3,850	2,682
Windham	3,416	1,355	1,649	471
Middlesex	3,092	2,227	1,342	1,161

Republican majority last year, 11,035.
Democratic gain since last year, over 10,000.

Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

The Supreme Court, before its adjournment sine die, ordered that all causes brought in by writs of error, or appeals from Southern States, shall be called up and disposed of at the next term.

The New Jersey Senatorship.

TRENTON, N. J., April 5.

The Senate again to-day refused to go into joint session for the election of a Senator.

A smart witness on a recent trial in Randolph county defined a bushwhacker to be "a good Union man, a man who did not rebel against the laws of his country." New coined meaning, this, for that word. Had they been such devoted friends of the great American Union, and actuated by high and honorable principles and patriotism, they would have crossed the lines, joined the Federal Army and fought for that Union instead of lying in the bushes, stealing, robbing and plundering. We think this is an effort to put spurious coin off upon the men of the North.—Greensboro' Patriot.

SOBER SECOND THOUGHT.—As a fair instance of what the "sober second thought" is doing among the people of Northern Ohio, at least—we make the following extract from one of a number of business letters we have received within a day or two, which contain similar expressions:

Let me say here, that the sentiments of the Herald on political matters at the present time are generally approved. We must stand by our Executive, though in some particulars we may differ from his opinions.—Cleaveland Herald, (Rep.)

We are pleased to find the following in the National Intelligencer: We learn that Gen. C. H. Howard, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen for this District, is in communication with parties in a number of Northern cities with reference to the hire of colored persons, and that numbers are sent away under contract every week. During the last ten days the number of applications for servants was: Males, 109; females, 25; total 134. Applications for work: Males, 83; females, 14; total 96. Furnished with employment: Males, 81; females, 13; total, 94; of which nearly all were sent away from the city under contract.

NOT THE MAN.—Major Gen. Augur, in compliance with instructions received from the Secretary of War, has released Wm. L. Hamilton, who was arrested in New York and brought to Washington, on the suspicion that he was Quantrell, the desparado. The government has furnished Hamilton with free transportation back to New York.

"George, what does your father do for a living?" "He's a philanthropist, sir!" "A what?" "A philanthropist, sir! He collects money for benighted Africans, and builds houses out of the proceeds."

Saturday, April 7, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

See Mayor Harrison's notice to tax-payers.

E. W. JONES, Collector U. S. Internal Revenue for the 1st District, will be in this city, today, (remaining five days,) for the purpose of issuing licenses under the "Excise Laws."

L. E. Heartt, Agent, announces the arrival of a large, elegant and well-selected stock of Spring Goods, besides Family Groceries, &c. Mr. Heartt's long experience as one of our best merchants is a sufficient warranty that his stock is all that he represents it to be.

WAKE SUPERIOR COURT.—This tribunal is still in session. On Thursday, a negro woman, named Zilla Thompson, was put on trial for arson. She was ably defended by Hons. Thomas Bragg and S. F. Phillips and Messrs. Smith and Abell,—the prosecution being skilfully conducted by the Attorney General, Hon. Sion H. Rogers. The jury retired on Thursday night, and remained out until last night, when they returned a verdict of not guilty.

RALEIGH AND GASTON RAILROAD.—We are glad to learn that the business and travel of this Road, one of the best in the South, are improving. Passengers can now run through from Charlotte to Weldon without changing cars.—The completion of the Weldon Bridge has increased the freight largely. This is one of the best shipping routes from the interior of this State direct to Norfolk.

The energy displayed by Wilmington, Newbern and Norfolk, to induce trade from the interior of this State, will, we hope, lessen freights and give an impetus to the energy and enterprise of our people.

TROOPS FOR NORTH CAROLINA.—The Petersburg Express mentions the arrival in that city of six companies of the 8th U. S. Infantry (Regulars), en route for this city. It is stated that they are to relieve the volunteer troops now on duty here.

PERSONAL.—The venerable Judge Ruffin is at present in Newbern, the guest of W. H. Oliver, Esq.

Gen. Leventhorpe, the accomplished commander of the old 11th N. C. T., has been sojourning in Charlotte for several days. The Times says that he is looking well, and has entirely recovered from his wound, received in the memorable charge which he led with such conspicuous gallantry in the first day's fight at Gettysburg.

Gen. Hoke was in Salisbury on Tuesday. On that evening, he was serenaded by the citizens, and in response to numerous calls he appeared on the balcony of the Metropolitan Hotel and in a handsome manner returned his thanks for the compliment shown him.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION IN EDENTON.—A friend furnishes us the following result of the recent charter election in the town of Edenton. The election was hotly contested by the radical sympathizers, and an issue was distinctly made with the friends of the President and the Union:

For Mayor: T. W. Hudgins, Union, 41; H. A. Bond, Radical, 15.

For Commissioners: N. S. Perkins 39, Wm. Badham 38, F. S. Roberts 37, J. R. B. Hathaway 37, J. A. Woodard 20, R. G. Mitchell 20, S. T. Bond 16, C. E. Robinson 15, T. J. Bland 15, Geo. W. Smith 15. The first five named gentlemen were the anti-radical candidates.

IMPARTIAL JUSTICE.—Wayne Superior Court is in session the present week,—his Honor, Judge Warren, presiding. We learn from the News that two persons, one white and one colored, convicted of stealing, were sentenced to receive the penalty prescribed by the Mosaic law.

PENSIONS.—Dr. Marion Roberts, late Physician and Surgeon, U. S. Army, has been appointed Examining Surgeon, at Washington City, D. C., for Pensioners and Pension Claimants in Western North Carolina. He is located 11½ miles north of Asheville, on the Burnsville road.

NEWBERN COMMERCIAL.—We are in receipt of this spirited daily, just established in Newbern, by Jno. Spelman, Esq. Its appearance is good, and its columns are filled with interesting original and selected matter. We wish the Commercial all success.

THE Holston Conference Female College at Asheville, in this State, will resume its exercises on the 21 July next, under the care of Rev. Jas. S. Kennedy, A. M., President, and a full corps of competent instructors. Before the war this was one of the most flourishing female schools in the State.

WE learn from the Asheville News, that Gen. R. B. Vance is engaged in merchandise in that place.

THE Old North State says that the people of Salisbury are erecting a Male Academy in that place. A good move.

THE death of Benjamin Sumner, Esq., of Rowan county, is announced in the Old North State. He was a highly respectable and useful citizen.

THE following vestrymen were elected for Christ Church, Newbern, N. C., on the 2nd inst: Messrs. Jacob Gooding, Sr., Wm. G. Hall, W. H. Oliver, Joseph Fulford, John Hughes, Fred. C. Roberts and Henry R. Bryan.

GENERAL NEWS.

PERSONAL.—Alexander H. Stephens, late Vice President of the Confederacy, arrived here last night, and is stopping at his former place of residence, corner 6 and D streets.

Senator Wright, of New Jersey, returned to his quarters in this city last evening, much improved in health.

The cases of ex parte Garland, of Arkansas, and Marr, of Louisiana, asking to be admitted to practice at the bar of the Supreme Court, and involving the constitutionality of the congressional test oath, together with the Missouri State test oath case, and many others, are continued to the next term, the court having adjourned till that time.

A correspondent of the New York Times says that the Canadian authorities have made arrangements to destroy the Niagara Suspension Bridge in the event of a Fenian raid.

The Swiss journals complain of the rage for emigration which is just now manifested in the majority of the cantons of the confederation.—Many are preparing for their departure for America.

Maj. N. R. Chambliss, a graduate of West Point, and throughout the late war an officer of the Confederate army, is now editing the Selma (Ala.) Times.

The eleventh national woman's rights convention is to assemble in New York on the 10th of May. They propose to demand of Congress that all women shall have the right of suffrage.

Gen. Dick Taylor is in Washington with the object, it is said, of endeavoring to secure the President's consent to visit Jeff. Davis, his brother-in-law, at Fortress Monroe. It is also supposed that Mrs. Davis is there for the same purpose.

The Figaro, some time ago, announced its intention of presenting every subscriber with a box of oranges. Another Parisian journal recently distributed sweetmeats to its subscribers. The Gazette de Bordeaux, however, has outdone both, and offers, for the sum of one hundred francs, first of all, itself for a whole year; secondly, photograph of the subscriber; and thirdly, five hundred metres of ground, situated ten kilometres from Bordeaux, and near an omnibus station.

Clocked stockings are again coming into favor with the ladies who wear looped or short skirts. "Trellis" patterns seem to be the most plenty, but the richest are "mosaics," and the most brilliant the "star" styles. They come in spun silk and in lisle thread that equals the finest silk in softness. Very few are in white.—Most are unbleached, and have the appearance of flesh color.

ELECTED ORATOR.—Hon. Alex. H. H. Stuart has been selected to deliver the annual address before the literary societies of the University of Virginia, at the annual commencement in June.

The widow of General Jackson has written a letter to some ladies of Memphis, thanking them for the present of a handsome painting of her deceased husband.

RICHMOND, April 4.—Joseph Mayo was elected Mayor to-day without opposition.

The health of the venerable Col. W. W. Seaton, for half a century one of the proprietors of the National Intelligencer, has, his friends will be glad to learn, improved much of late, and he is now able to walk about his room.

The Duchess of Sutherland is dangerously ill. She was the most magnificent woman in all Europe.

Mrs. Forbes, who died recently in Ashfield, was 103 years of age.

Why is wit like a Chinese lady? Because brevity is the sole of it.

$50 REWARD.

Stolen from the Subscriber, living near Chapel Hill on the night of the 8th inst., one BLACK MARE MULE 5 or 6 years old, medium size and very much used by the harness, especially on the rump. She has a touched mane and tail. She had shoes on her fore feet when taken, one of which is worn down also rubbed badly by the girth so that the skin has been rubbed off under the left side.

I will pay $25 for the recovery of the Mule, or $5 for the recovery of the mare, and evidence to convict the thief. WILLIE HENDERSON.

A Remarkable Case.

DYSPEPSIA WITH LOSS AND INSANITY AND IS CURED.—Mrs. PAGE, Petersburg, Va., Aug. 20, 1865. I hereby certify, that two years ago last June, I was attacked with a disease commonly called Chronic Complaint; the pain and weakness in the back testified to me that I was afflicted with Spinal Complaint. The pain and weakness in the back increased, and I found that I could not bear my clothes fastened on me for the space of two years. I had a great difficulty in breathing; a general debility prevailed over my whole system; so much so that I could not walk up the steps without drawing myself up by the banister; had a cough that kept me distressed my greatest part of the time during my illness; and hemorrhage of the Lungs. A medical treatment failed to afford me relief; it was the opinion of my friends that I must die with Pulmonary consumption. I was advised to use the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS, after using three boxes, strictly according to directions, I did myself the enjoyment of perfect health; I have a good appetite, have as much flesh as I ever was, sleep sound and pleasant, and can perform any duty with as much strength and vigor as I ever did. They certainly have acted like a perfect charm on me."

For sale by the Druggists. Directions accompany each box. Sent to any part of the United States for $3 per dozen. Address,

DAILY SENTINEL

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

Mr. DeBow's Testimony before the Congressional Committee—Condition and Prospects of the South.

J. D. B. DeBow, Esq., having recently returned from an extensive Southern tour, was summoned as a witness, a few days since, before the Congressional Joint Committee of Reconstruction. He testified upon several leading points, we are informed, very much as follows:

The South Acquiesces.—There seems to be a general, nay, universal acquiescence in the results of the war, though much dissatisfaction prevails in reference to the course pursued by Congress. The people, having fairly and honestly tried the experiment of secession, are satisfied with the result, and there is no disposition in any quarter, in any shape or form, to embarrass the United States Government, or to refrain from the performance of all the duties of citizenship. Those in favor of or opposed to secession are agreed that it is our best interest to accept what the Government has done in reference to the negro, as well as in reference to other matters.

The Freedmen's Bureau is universally complained of as a great evil to the whites as well as the blacks, and has been the cause of much heart burning and a feeling of hostility which did not exist at the time of the surrender. The hostility is not serious, and would speedily yield on the adoption of liberal measures by Congress.

Military Force.—None whatever is required at the South, except what the States themselves would furnish. Order has been completely restored.

Treatment of Union Men.—There is a prejudice against those who remained in the South and pretended loalty to it, but who now, for interested motives, set up that they were always loyal to the Union. Much deception of this kind is practised. Union men, who left the country for that reason, and took no part in the war, are respected when they return. The prejudice never amounts to hostility, and no one would be molested in any manner on that account. I know of no exceptions. Such persons require no protection. There might be some little unkindness of look or expression towards them, and they would not expect freedom of social intercourse. No attempt would be made by any one to interfere with their personal and political rights—none whatever.

Treatment of Northern men.—The secession men—the men who were in the war—are generally ruined, and their families destitute; and there is, for this reason, a disposition to sustain them if they undertake any business. Actual sympathy with their opinions must, of course, have its weight. On the other hand, there are many who are in flourishing business—Northern men, who came to the South during or since the war, and who conduct the most extensive and lucrative operations. The discrimination, where it exists, is merely social. At present it is well marked. I have never known it to take an offensive shape. There is coolness, reserve, but nothing more. Ladies at parties may not receive the attentions of Federal officers, yet the festivities go on in the same room, and no unpleasantness occurs. The feeling is stronger than it was. It is the result of political causes. It will wear away.

Will the South support the Union against a Foreign Power?—Many young men might be tempted to fight against the flag but ninety-nine in the hundred of the people are sick of war, and would sustain the United States, beyond a doubt; if not from affection, at least from a conviction of the overwhelming power of the Federal Government. After the results of the late war, they would know any opposition to be hopeless. Besides, all foreign powers are hated and despised, because of their course towards the Confederacy, and would never be trusted; and none are believed to be able to cope with the United States.

Do the People expect Pay for their Slaves?—This matter is sometimes discussed, but no expectation of the kind exists. It would be difficult of discernment between slaves and other property; and the conflict between claimants would defeat any scheme. The non slaveholders—the vast majority—would ask why pay for slaves and not pay us for our property too?

Political Elections in Future.—There are so few men on the Union side from whom the choice could be made, and the proportion of talent and worth is so overwhelmingly on the other side, that there is but little option. Other things being equal, they would prefer men in sympathy with them. There are many and notable exceptions, and such will become more and more frequent.

Fraternity.—The country is so desolate, there is so much distress, so much want and suffering among the people of the South, that they have no time for politics. They are disposed to go to work to restore their broken fortunes. If the exciting, annoying, and irritating causes were removed, it would not be six months before the feeling between Northern and Southern men would be softened, and restoration of harmony would be hastened. The very necessities of our condition require it. We would find Northern men bringing their capital and industry among us, and they would be welcomed. Labor and capital we must have. The negro is defective as a laborer. There was even under the old system a deficiency of labor at the South.

Treatment of the Negro.—He is not held responsible for what has happened. A kindly feeling exists towards him. The disposition is to provide for his necessities and secure his rights, and thus make him a cheerful and reliable laborer. It is believed to be the interest of the employer to do this. I know of some who provide teachers and preachers. No outside interference necessary. This is no new matter with us. We have had free negroes in all time. There were some three hundred thousand at the South before the war, and half as many at the North. Our treatment of them was never complained of. No charges of that kind came even from the North. When I was at the head of the United States Census Office, in 1863, I compared the condition of these people in both sections, and published the results. The advantage in education and property was largely in favor of the Southern freedmen. Some of our freedmen owned large plantations and slaves, many were extensive property holders. If without outside pressure this was the case then, why not now? Why should we change? What policy, to say no more, would be subserved?—We can do right now as well as then, and will do it.

Emancipation as compared with slavery.—If the negro works up to the former standard, the present system is cheaper. It is too soon to decide whether he will work. A Summer must come and go. They work very well so far, generally, though the women are not disposed to field work. Upon the mere money question the South would be benefitted. If we can get the labor it will be cheaper to hire than to own the negro. A plantation could be worked with little outlay.

Effect upon the Negro.—Emancipation will prove disastrous to him. I judge that from the experience of other countries, and not from any we have yet had. I judge by his thriftless character, and disposition to crowd into the cities and towns. It is what I see all over the South. In the suburbs everywhere you will see them crowded in miserable shanties, eking out a very uncertain subsistence. The mortality among them has been frightful.

Civil Rights to the Freedmen.—There is a willingness to extend every right whatever except that of suffrage. He is not thought fit to exercise that. Were he to vote his inclination would be on the side of his employer; but that might, and perhaps would, be counteracted by emissaries sent into the country. Northern men who have come to the South since the war very generally think as we do in these matters. They say they have found our experience worth more than their theories. The negro is not thought to be susceptible of much education. People rather smile at the attempt to educate them. There is no opposition to it, however. Schools for them are multiplying. Under slavery they were taught on the plantations Bible lessons, prayers, hymns, catechism, etc. The opinion is growing among us everywhere, that it will be for our interest, at least, to afford every facility of education. That is my opinion clearly.

Right of Secession.—I never doubted the existence of this right, but am satisfied by the results of the war, and regard it utterly useless and hopeless to assert any such right again.—The event of the war was a distinct pronunciation against the exercise of the right, and a final settlement of the question. Our people are better satisfied since the experiment has been made, and have nothing to regret. They have lost everything, but not, as they think, honor.

I am perfectly satisfied that the people of the South have given up all ideas of secession.—Leaders and people of all classes of opinion agree upon that subject.

RALEIGH, 1866.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Etna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assetts of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500 to $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not offer thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57, total disbursements $527 805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,244 33.

In Raleigh, a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

9. Because it gives full Reports of important Lectures and Discourses.

10. Because it has something for Scholars and Poets, for People, for Artists and Farmers, for Statesmen and Mechanics, for Women and Children, for Saints and Sinners.

11. Because it is a fearless independent Journal of Progress, belonging to no Party, no Sect, no Church, no Clique, no Section—but to the Whole Country and all its People.

12. Because where a family can take only one paper it is designed to make that come nearer supplying all its wants than any other Journal in America.

CIRCULAR.

The Copartnership of G. W. DEEMS & C. F. DEEMS has been dissolved, by mutual consent, and the business of manufacturing the Southern has gone into the hands of G. W. DEEMS, the discoverer, who has removed to Baltimore, Md., where he can have access to the purest and best Medicines, on the most favorable terms. He will always keep on hand a large supply and will sell to his customers, wholesale and retail, at the shortest notice.

Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been circulated so extensively, they need no recommendation—their merits are so well known by their results.

We thank our customers for the liberal patronage given us heretofore, and hope they will continue to favor us by sending their orders to G. W. DEEMS, No 28 South Calhoun Street, Baltimore, Md., where they will be promptly attended to, the cash accompanying the orders. Price 50 cts. per box; $2.50 per dozen, and a liberal discount to dealers.
